RACE TRACK, SARATOGA, N. Y.,
Aug. 9.—It was reported here today that the Jockey Club was quietly conducting an investigation into the methods used by the Saratoga Association for extorting money from the ring and for permitting an open and flagrant violation of the law regarding the display of betting paraphernalia and cash wagers in the ring.

Francis Trevelyan, representing the Jockey Club, knew of no such investigation, and the report could not be traced to a definite source. It is likely if any such investigation is being conducted, it is going on very quietly and independently of the Jockey Club's representative at this track.

It is certain, at any rate, that all of the rules laid down by the Jockey Club in relation to betting under the new law have been broken without compunction. Every day since betting began a certain person circulates through the ring and collects $20 from each bookmaker who intends to do business.

Cash betting is done almost exclusively and plenty of money is flashed daily. Cards with odds marked thereon are openly displayed in distinct defiance of the law, which says that "no paraphernalia of betting shall be displayed." It does not seem threatening to the Jockey Club, but it is a fact that some investigation will be ordered.

Lacing was continued to-day with a very fair card and under excellent conditions as regards weather and track. The attendance was the largest of the week.

Col. Ruppert, Jr., has sold Nicolini and five others of his string to Uhley Heyman, who formerly managed the Ruppert string.

Little Matt Second.

RACE TRACK, BRIGHTON BEACH,
Aug. 9.—A good day, fair track and a fairly well-filled card that was not injured much by the blue pencil, furnished excellent sport at old Brighton this afternoon to quite a large crowd for a Friday.

St. Agnes, a St. Blaise youngster, out to the start in the handicap for two-year-olds. She is owned and trained by Matt Allen. This was her first performance in public, and her work was closely scrutinized because she is a candidate for the Futurity. The sharp turns troubled the filly and she ran next to the last of the nine horses in the bunch.

FIRST RACE.
For maiden three-year-olds and upward: five furlongs.
Starting: Betting: St. Blaise, 11/2; Emotional, 11/2; Bowling Green, 11/2; Beale Browning, 11/2; Tinge, 11/2; Captain T., 11/2; Little Matt, 11/2.
Result: Emotional won by a head, Bowling Green second, Beale Browning third, Tinge fourth, Captain T. fifth, Little Matt sixth.

SECOND RACE.

AGAINST BEER MADE BY MONKS.

St. Vincent's Abbey Denounced by the Abstinence Union's Minority Report.

ITS SALE DECLARED A SHAME.

Majority Report Attacks Catholicism Engaged in the Liquor Business.

URGES THEM TO GIVE IT UP.

Catholic Newspapers Asked to Stop Printing Advertisements of Alcoholic Drinks.

Shortly after the third day's session of the Convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union held open in Columbus Hall this morning, Rev. Dr. O'Brien, Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, took the platform and then it developed that there was a majority and minority report.

The report which the Chairman read made a bitter attack on Catholicism engaged in the liquor business and urged all such to give it up.

It advocated a complete Sunday closing and a rigid enforcement of the Sunday Excise Law.

The resolutions thanked the press, the Archbishop, Mr. Sattoli, but made no mention of the beer brewed by the monks of St. Vincent's Abbey, in La Trobe, Pa., which the Convention, it was expected, would condemn. It asked Catholic newspapers not to publish liquor advertisements.

St. Vincent's attacked. The minority report was read by Father Zurcher. It was practically the same as that attacked St. Vincent's Abbey, and condemned the Catholic institution for making beer and putting it on the market. "That was the darky behind the fence," as Father Zurcher put it.

Rev. Father Lamley, of Pennsylvania, said he was not in favor of any milk and water resolutions. He said it was a shame to see "St. Vincent's beer" sold and hawked around. Worse still was it to have the beer made and sold by monks.

"If we cannot come out flat-footed on this question," he continued, "let us not say anything at all."

'THIS IS MR. DINKINS'

So Saying, Marshall, a Vicksburg Lawyer, Fired His Pistol.

His Friend Contributed Shots and Dinkins Was Soon Killed.

The Dead Man Had Accused His Murderer of Indecent Acts.

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 8.—A special from Brandon, fifteen miles east of here, gives the particulars of a shooting affray which took place there at 5 o'clock this morning, in which T. Dinkins, a prominent lawyer and member of the State Legislature from Vicksburg, and two friends shot and killed R. T. Marshall, Agent of the Austin Road Machine Company.

While standing on the platform of the depot, Dinkins was approached by Marshall, who was carrying a pistol. Marshall walked up and said: "This is Mr. Dinkins," and placing a pistol at Dinkins' stomach, discharged the weapon.

Dinkins grabbed the pistol just as it was fired, and possibly the first shot did not take effect. As Dinkins backed away from Marshall, there was a fusillade of shots from Marshall's companions. It is thought Dinkins fired Marshall's pistol at the latter, as it was found in his hand when dead.

Marshall, Coleman, Fox and Marshall's law partner, Mr. Vallens, met in the waiting-room of the depot and said they were ready to surrender.

Two weeks ago Dinkins and Marshall occupied the same room, but different beds, at a hotel in Raymond, and next morning Dinkins said Marshall was guilty of a crime similar to that for which Oscar Wilde is now serving time in an English prison.

When the story came to the ears of Marshall he denounced it as a lie through the press. "Dinkins, however, maintained that the story was true."

An Indian Interpreter Gets Three Months for Using a Pistol. Walter Clarence Hoyt, a superb specimen of physical manhood, stood before Recorder Goff this afternoon to plead an indictment for assaulting James Butler, of 329 First Avenue, with the butt end of a revolver.

Hoyt stands over six feet two inches in height, and came to "attention" when his name was called, and said: "I am guilty."

AFTER SALOON MEN.

Special Sessions Justices Inquire About Excise Cases.

Ask the District-Attorney to Report His Progress with Them.

Declare They Will See that Transfers Do Not Prevent Justice.

Assistant District-Attorney Jacob Berlinger this afternoon had the following communication handed to him by City Magistrate W. Travis Jerome:

Court of Special Sessions, New York, Aug. 8, 1895. Mr. Jacob Berlinger, Esq., District-Attorney, is requested to report to the court on or before the 15th inst. of this month, a list of all cases transferred from the District Court to the Court of Special Sessions, and to report on the progress of the cases.

As a matter of fact, over one hundred cases have recently been transferred and are now awaiting the action of the Grand Jury. To consider these cases at this time the Grand Jury would have to neglect the consideration of prison cases, where the defendants, perhaps charged on a preliminary hearing, are held in the Tombs until the Grand Jury acts.

The Acting District-Attorney has said that he would see that the cases were transferred as quickly as he could without discriminating against the prison cases.

Col. Fellows was not at his office today, and Mr. Berlinger will be unable to report from him to Mr. Jerome in the morning. It is the opinion of several of the Assistant District-Attorneys that the interference by the Magistrate of the Court of Special Sessions in the work of the Grand Jury and of the District-Attorney's office is absolutely unwarranted.

State Department Has Been Asked to Protect Americans in China. Rev. A. B. Leonard, Corresponding Secretary of the Methodist Board of Foreign Missions, who received yesterday a cable appeal from the missionaries sheltered in Foo Chow to ask the Government to protect the endangered American missionaries in China, said this morning:

"At once wired to the Secretary of State at Washington, urging him of the necessity to act promptly for the safety of our citizens in China, and asked to be advised of what steps would be taken."

I have as yet received no reply. "I understand that Mr. Olney is at Buzzard's Bay, and that Mr. Olney is the Assistant Secretary of State, is in Europe, and that Mr. Olney is the Secretary of the Department, nor do I know what is being done in this grave situation."

NEW YORK - - 15 BALTIMORE - - 8

Giants' Strong Batting Won the First Game With the Orioles.

HOFFER LASTED 4 INNINGS.

Hemming Took His Place, but Was Found Even an Easier Mark.

10,000 EXCITED ROOTERS OUT.

Police Necessary to Preserve Order and Keep the Field Clear for Play.

(From The Evening World's Special Correspondent with the Team.)
UNION SQUARE PARK, BALTIMORE, Aug. 8.—A decided sporting party, in the shape of a "double header," awaited the nine tired and travel-worn Gotham baseballers when they arrived in the home of the champions to-day. The Baltimore management quietly decided that the postponed game of the last series here should be played to-day.

To say the least, this move was unfair, even though permitted by the rules. The New York management had not been apprised of it, and had the team left home this morning, instead of late last night, it would not have arrived in time for the first game of the double header.

Jennings was injured sliding to the plate in the first inning. He took his place at the close of the first inning of the crowd in the bleachers forced open the big gate and rushed upon the field, where they waited about for several minutes. Hopes were finally stretched and order was restored.

Upwards of 10,000 people were on the ground, and the wildest excitement reigned in anticipation of trouble, a squad of police being sent for and stationed about the field.

During the intermission Jennings recovered sufficiently to resume his place. The batting order:
New York: Fuller, ss; McGraw, 3b; Tamm, 1b; Hallett, cf; Jennings, 2b; Davis, 1b; Carey, p.
Baltimore: McGraw, 3b; Tamm, 1b; Hallett, cf; Jennings, 2b; Davis, 1b; Carey, p.

First Inning.
Keeler gathered fly by after a hard run. McGraw's error rammed a three-bagger to the center field fence. Van put up one which Keeler grabbed, and Davis fanned the Pataspoco breeze. No runs.

McGraw pushed a slow one towards second and beat it. A passed ball put him on second. Keeler's error rammed a three-bagger to the center field fence. Van put up one which Keeler grabbed, and Davis fanned the Pataspoco breeze. No runs.

CRACK CYCLISTS LOSE.

Surprised for Class A Men at Chicago's Tournament.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—All the crack cyclists of the country, with the exception of the very few professionals, were on hand for the National Amateur Cycling Tournament, which began this afternoon at the one-third mile track on the south side. The meeting was held under the joint management of the Chicago Athletic Association and the Associated Cycling Clubs.

The heats of the Class A races were run this forenoon. Some supposedly inferior Class A men were bowled out, and hitherto unheard-of riders finished ahead of such men as Becker, Winnip, Wood and Lange.
